Safety Alert Handtools

This safety alert is applicable for all employees working with (electric) handtools. As a result of several recent incidents were 'lack of knowledge' and 'poor maintenance' were the basic cause of the injury, the following warning is imperative ;

Be aware of the risks that handtools can cause when they are used.

- Read the manual or guideline carefully prior to execution of the job. This will make you familiar with the use of your handtools.

- See to it that your handtools always get proper maintenance. This is not only limited to electrical equipment. Wear and tear, corrosion and rust can have a serious effect on your material !
